J&M Technologies Holds Users Group Meeting

Canfield, OH - November, 2016 – Over 80 distributors gathered in Chicago, Ill. during the ISSA InterClean Show for the J&M Technologies Users Group Meeting. The gathering enabled users of J&M Technologies various electronic sales tools, such as the Internet Order Entry program for online ordering and the ERA interactive sales tool for distributor reps. Attendees were also able to expand their product knowledge and find out about upcoming features and new products.

Highlighted during the Users Meeting was the newest graphic layout of the Internet Order Entry program which provides a more streamlined user experience on distributor e-commerce sites. The updated formatting provides many new options to make the ordering process even easier while providing more product information to guide users to the ideal product choice.

“Our sales tools provide independent distributors with cutting edge technology specifically developed for the JanSan industry,” pointed out John Manzoian, president of J&M Technologies. “The variety of sales tools we offer provides multiple ways for distributors to increase sales and grow their bottom line, including our unique ‘Shop-by-Room’ feature which guides users to the products appropriate for their facility.”
